Successful completion of this course will give you a sound basis in the field of Health & Safety

The National General Certificate is the most widely held health and safety qualification in the UK with over 100,000 people having gained the award since it was launched in 1989.

Managers, supervisors and staff from all types of organisations who need a broader and deeper understanding of health and safety issues affecting their organisation would benefit from this course.

The certificate helps you manage risks effectively. Many people take the NEBOSH National General Certificate as a first step in a career in health and safety. It provides a valuable overview, and is a sound basis for further professional study.

The NEBOSH National General Certificate meets the academic requirements for Technician membership (TechIOSH) of the Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (IOSH) and Associate membership (AIIRSM) of the International Institute of Risk and Safety Management (IIRSM).

The NEBOSH National General Certificate is accredited at Level 3 within the National Qualification Framework (NQF)

The course is divided into three units:

- NGC1 – Management of health and safety
- NGC2 – Controlling workplace hazards
- NGC3 – Health and safety practical application
